1 COURT CALLED INTO SESSION

2 (3:11:55 P.M.)

3 THE CLERK: June 2, 2016, and we are on the record
4 in Criminal Case No. 15-10338, United States of America
5 verse of Recines-Garcia et al, the Honorable M. Page Kelley
6 and F. Dennis Saylor presiding.

7 Would counsel -- I'm sorry. I don't think --

8 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Don't say that.

9 Good afternoon, everyone.

10 MR. LEVITT: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

11 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: So, I do just want to put on 12 the record that there is one of the defendants here. Can we 13 identify him for the record, please?

14 MS. PARSONS: Yes, Your Honor. Here today is Mr.
15 Jose Andrade who is here present in court with an 16 interpreter.

17 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. And that's Inga
18 Parsons, --

19 MS. PARSONS: Yes.

20 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: -- his attorney.

21 And let's swear in the interpreter.

22 SPANISH INTERPRETER DEBORAH HUACUJA, SWORN

23 THE CLERK: And can you please state your name for 24 the record?

25 THE INTERPRETER: For the record my name is

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 Deborah Huacuja. Good afternoon.

2 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Good afternoon. Thank you,
3 Ms. Huacuja.

4 And good afternoon, Mr. Andrade.

5 So we do have a sign-in sheet that counsel -- who 6 all of whom are present have signed, and some counsel have 7 indicated that they're standing in for other counsel, and so 8 we're going keep that as a record.

9 And also I believe that Ms. Moore has identified 10 the parties who are appearing by phone, and I'd just like to 11 ensure that they're still on the phone. So if you could 12 just identify yourselves once again if you're on the phone?

13 MR. ETTEBERG: Peter Ettenberg for Joel Martinez.

14 MR. WEINSTEIN: Elliott Weinstein for Mr. Perez.

15 MR. GREENBERG: Good afternoon. James Greenberg
16 for Manuel Martinez.

17 MR. HALPERN: Keith Halpern, Rafael
18 Leoner-Aguirre.

19 MR. TUMPOSKY: Michael Tumposky for Mr.
20 Recines-Garcia.

21 MR. GRIBOUSKI: Jim Gribouski for Ramiro Guerra.

22 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So and as for everyone 23 else who is present, we'll just go by the sign-in sheet.

24 And I assume the government is not on that list, 25 so if you would identify yourselves for the record?

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 MR. LEVITT: Peter Levitt on behalf of the 2 government. Good afternoon.

3 MR. POHL: Good afternoon, Your Honor.
4 Christopher Pohl for the United States.

5 MS. HEMANI: Rachel Hemani for the United States.

6 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Good afternoon, and thank you.

7 So this is our second status conference, and I'll 8 be happy to hear any matters that any counsel want to bring 9 up. There are a couple of things that I'd like to cover 10 first, and then I'll hear you afterwards.

11 So first of all, I notice that Marshal Allison 12 Hodgkins is here, and I hope everyone knows her. If you're 13 a defense counsel and you don't know her, you can look at 14 her right now. That's who she is.

15 And she is going to be of your assistance in 16 making sure that your clients get to review discovery in the 17 institutions in which they are held. If your client is held 18 in an institution that the marshals are not holding him in, 19 that could be a problem for all concerned.

20 But Ms. Hodgkins, do you just want to address the 21 group?

22 MARSHAL HODGKINS: If I may, Your Honor?

23 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Absolutely.

24 MARSHAL HODGKINS: If issues arise where you find 25 yourself against a brick wall, please contact me directly.

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 I think given the fact that there are so many attorneys, 2 you'd probably inundate each institution if you're all
3 calling down there. But please work out whatever you can;
4 and again, if you find that it's definitely necessary for me
5 to be involved, please contact me.

6 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Thank you. And Ms.
7 Hodgkins has some experience with the various point people 8 at different institutions, so if you're having trouble, she 9 can at least point you to the right person to call.

10 You know, we've really been struggling over the 11 last couple of months with how to get the materials in to 12 the various institutions and make sure that the defendants 13 have the required time they need to look at the materials.
14 Oddly, I can't really figure out whose job it is to ensure 15 that that happens. I'm sure counsel knows that Rule 116.4 16 orders the government to make an extra copy of tape
17 recordings available for defendants who are in custody.

18 The government has really been very helpful 19 working with defense counsel and Mike Andrews in trying to 20 purchase computers, load them up with discovery and get them
21 into Wyatt where I believe 26 defendants are being held.
22 That's a kind of pilot program that's going on right now.

23 Emily Schulman has agreed to purchase the 24 computers. As it turns out, a CJA lawyer has to buy them 25 according to the protocol, so she's agreed to do that. And

1 as soon as the computers are purchased, the government
2 stands ready to load them up. Mike Andrews, if necessary, 3 will drive them to the institution, and we're going to get 4 that underway I hope within the next two weeks.

5 With regard to the other institutions, if there's 6 a critical mass of defendants at a certain institution, we 7 hope we can buy more computers, if this works out. But in 8 the meantime, it may be your only option is to work with Ms.
9 Hodgkins. And also I think the government would be happy to 10 help you to try to get the materials in to the institution 11 and load it on to an appropriate device. And if all else 12 fails, you can always go there yourself and sit and go over 13 it with the client. Or have a paralegal do that, and I
14 don't think there would be any trouble in getting the funds 15 to have someone else at a lower rate sit with the defendant.
16 We're trying to avoid that just for obvious reasons, but 17 anyway. That's a big concern, and we're working as hard as 18 we can on it.

19 So I would like to ask the government just to 20 state what is the status of the automatic discovery 21 disclosures and when do you anticipate those being finished.

22 MR. LEVITT: Your Honor, we did file a status
23 report yesterday pursuant to the Court's order.

24 But to give sort of the global picture, we've been 25 doing rolling discovery really on a monthly basis, and to

1 date we've produced approximately 2,293 documents which 2 constitute approximately 15,000 pages, about 9,000 audio 3 clips or items which is hundreds of hours of audio all in 4 Spanish, approximately 1400 audio video files again all in 5 Spanish. That constitutes about a hundred hours. That's -- 6 and then approximately 5,000 text messages from one of the 7 -- from CW-1. In terms of where we are, we estimate we're 8 approximately 75 percent through with what is sort of 9 pre-indictment material.

10 The bulk of the remaining material is that audio 11 video. As I said, we've done about a hundred hours. Much 12 of the audio/video is generated from CW-1, and we have a 13 team of paralegals and interns supervised by lawyers that 14 are watching every minute of those audio/video files to see 15 anyplace where the CW-1's face appears, and then that needs
16 to be redacted. So CW-1 is in a car and walks by a car 17 window, and you can see his face. Or goes to the bathroom, 18 and he's in the mirror, and you can see his face. So going 19 through those and redacting the faces has been time 20 consuming, but we've done about a hundred hours, and we 21 think it's probably another fifty hours.

22 There is a large discovery package going out 23 tomorrow. It's the largest one we've done so far. It has 24 to go on a hard drive. That's how big it is.

25 And you know, we suspect that, you know, we're

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 well along the way to being finished I guess I would say.

2 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Can you give -- I'll just say
3 this. To date I have not set a hard deadline, because I
4 think if you're producing things on a rolling basis, people 5 are going to take a while to look at what you've already 6 given them, but I do --

7 I am really concerned that the case is as old as 8 it is, and we don't have a date by which you -- at least a 9 target date for you to complete automatic discovery.

10 So can you give us a date at this time?

11 MR. LEVITT: I would say the next --

12 Two more productions, so it's really 60 days.

13 And, you know, I guess what I would say about it 14 -- a couple of things -- is, you know, to date we've 15 probably received three or four discovery letters in total 16 which we've had no difficulty responding to. We've had some 17 informal requests as well we've had no problem responding 18 to.

19 For many of the defendants, particularly the 20 defendants that are implicated in homicides, we have 21 provided individualized discovery of the most significant 22 evidence involving that particular homicide.

23 So, you know, I guess in -- so my sense is, and 24 obviously the defense lawyers here can speak for themselves, 25 but there hasn't been a good deal of clamoring that I've

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 heard in terms of time, because it is so much material to 2 digest. And we're trying to get out, you know, as much as 3 of the -- the most significant evidence as fast as we can 4 and sort of front loading that.

5 ATTORNEY: Your Honor?

6 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Yes.

7 ATTORNEY: I'd like to clamor for one thing sooner 8 rather than later. The stock discovery letter that the 9 government gives us, I don't think we should have to wait 60 10 days to get that. That has some information in it that 11 isn't really in the discovery that's getting produced.

12 MR. LEVITT: We can do that in the next 30 days.

13 ATTORNEY: That's fine.

14 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Okay. So I'm going to 15 wait and hear from defense counsel on that, but your request 16 is June 30 for a formal discovery letter and July 30 for 17 completion of fact discovery.

18 MR. LEVITT: And, Your Honor, the only thing I 19 would qualify that July 30 is the investigation is ongoing, 20 so we're continuing to get material in. But that will be 21 sort of the -- certainly all of the pre-indictment material 22 other than 21-day material.

23 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

24 MR. LEVITT: And, you know, and to the extent 25 there's things post indictment that are relevant that we can

1 produce as well, we will.

2 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. And I would just -- I 3 noticed your status report said you've already provided some 4 Jencks.

5 MR. LEVITT: Correct.

6 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: And so I would just obviously 7 encourage you to keep providing that. That's for Judge 8 Saylor to order, but I'm glad you're doing that.

9 So just one second, Mr. Cunha.

10 So with regard to Docket No. 490, which is 11 Attorney Caramanica's request, they had written you a letter 12 asking for discovery targeted specifically to his client.
13 Has that been responded to?

14 MR. LEVITT: We've left him a message telling him 15 that we are going to do that for him.

16 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

17 MR. LEVITT: So I mean -- you know, and I've 18 talked to several of the defense lawyers about this. You 19 know, we will attempt to accommodate everyone if they want 20 that. Some of them is easier than others. So, you know, 21 the ones -- some folks have contacted us about that, and 22 we've done it, and we'll continue to do so.

23 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Mr. Cunha, yes.

24 MR. CUNHA: Just by way of information, if Mr.
25 Levitt could tell us, is the 75 percent -- is the hard disk

1 comprised within that 75 percent?

2 MR. LEVITT: It is comprised -- yes, it is.

3 MR. CUNHA: Okay. So it's not 75 percent we've 4 got so far.

5 MR. LEVITT: As of tomorrow.

6 MR. CUNHA: As of tomorrow.

7 MR. LEVITT: Correct.

8 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So does any --

9 MR. SALSBERG: Your Honor?

10 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Yes.

11 MR. SALSBERG: One quick thing occurs to me. When 12 I hear Mr. Levitt mention that people working for the 13 government are looking at all of this video, I thought he 14 was going to say --

15 MR. WEINSTEIN: Excuse me, Judge. This is Elliott
16 Weinstein. We on the phone can't hear any lawyer speaking 17 other than you, Your Honor.

18 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So we're going to have 19 -- this is John Salsberg, and he's going to speak into a 20 microphone.

21 MR. SALSBERG: Can you hear me, Elliott?

22 MR. WEINSTEIN: Yeah. Thank you.

23 MR. SALSBERG: So I thought Mr. Levitt was going 24 to say we have people from the government looking at the 25 video and keeping track of exculpatory evidence so we could

1 turn that over to defense counsel. I literally did think 2 that's what he was going to say. But that does seem like a 3 -- that if they're going to spend the time to look at all 4 this video and listen to the audio, that perhaps they should 5 be thinking about that as a task, as well as tagging each of 6 the videos with the names of the defendants who are referred 7 to in the video so that we don't have to do all 50 some odd 8 of us what they're doing, which is watching all these 9 videos. If they're watching all of them and listening to 10 all of them, why shouldn't they simply say, okay, this one 11 goes to Pineda, and one goes to whoever else, and we're 12 keeping track of that. It doesn't sound like that it's an 13 assistant U.S. attorney spending their time but probably --

14 Well, I don't know. Is it a paralegal or a law 15 school student?

16 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Maybe I'll ask Mr. Levitt to 17 respond to that.

18 MR. LEVITT: Well, we're fully cognizant of our 19 responsibilities with respect to exculpatory evidence, and 20 we'll continue to monitor that.

21 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: So with the 9,000 audios and 22 videos, do they come with a table of contents?

23 MR. LEVITT: One moment, Your Honor?

24 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Ms. Hemani, you can just 25 explain if you want.

1 MR. LEVITT: That would be great. Go ahead and do 2 that.

3 MS. HEMANI: Of the 9,000 audio clips, about 8,000
4 of those are the CW-1's consensual T. III calls, and those 5 -- we'll be producing those tomorrow in a format that allows 6 everybody to sort it by phone number and by date. That's 7 all the information that we have about it.

8 There are also a number of -- there are a number
9 of reports that are being produced. Certainly not about 10 every phone call and certainly not about every meeting, but 11 to the extent that there are reports that talk about CW-1 12 says that on such-and-such a date he met with these people 13 or he spoke to so-and-so on the phone, that's another way to 14 sort of find relevant material.

15 But we don't have an index by the --

16 And to address the point, the audio/video that 17 people are watching to redact, that's in Spanish, and the 18 individuals who are watching it don't speak Spanish.

19 I mean, we're trying to protect the identity of 20 CW-1. So if it were as simple as somebody's watching it and 21 they can keep a list of who appears on it, we would do that, 22 but that's not the case at all.

23 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: I see. But with regard to --

24 If I could just ask you to clarify something you 25 said? With regard to your writing something out that

1 identifies a call, does it include the names of the 2 participants?

3 MS. HEMANI: To the extent that there are reports 4 --

5 I mean, reports were generated by law enforcement 6 in this case about most of the significant events that 7 occurred over in lengthy investigation and those reports are 8 being produced. Many of them have been produced, and they 9 identify by name I think, usually by their gang name the 10 individual defendant's names, and we're producing everything 11 in a format that's word searchable.

12 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: So, for example, if you
13 represent someone with a certain nickname, you could run 14 that nickname through and come up with all the calls where 15 the government thinks they're on the call?

16 MS. HEMANI: It wouldn't be all the calls; it 17 would be all the calls that have reports written about them.

18 But you could also search your client's telephone 19 number for those 8,000 telephone calls or any known 20 telephone numbers and identify all the calls that come up 21 with that phone number on it.

22 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

23 MR. LEVITT: So just to give that some further 24 context, I mean so CW-1 has a consensual T. III on his 25 phone. He engages in what he thinks is a significant call

1 with somebody. Typically he's then calling an agent and 2 telling him about the call, and that agent or that trooper, 3 whoever it is, is writing a little report which will say
4 CW-1 reported that he had a call with, you know, X person 5 and, you know, maybe a little bit of the substance of it.

6 So that is a way to sort of back into finding 7 those calls. You know, essentially it's a way of saying 8 these are the calls that in real-time the government viewed 9 as significant. That doesn't mean that there aren't others, 10 right, but --

11 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: So when you send out your 12 discovery tomorrow, will it include a cover letter that 13 explains all of the features of the discovery to defense 14 counsel?

15 MR. LEVITT: Yeah, and I think it has been 16 explained in the past in terms of --

17 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

18 MR. LEVITT: I mean, so one of the issues just to 19 give you an example was we sent out the consensual Title III 20 calls, and some of the -- we got a couple of lawyers who 21 said, gee, are they searchable in any way? And we talked to 22 our tech person, and they said no. And so we said, well, 23 why don't we make it in a searchable fashion, and so we're 24 reproducing that now tomorrow. That's what Ms. Hemani's 25 referring to.

1 So the consensual T. III calls that were 2 previously produced, and we've advised the defense lawyers a 3 few weeks ago that we were going to be doing this, are now
4 sortable by telephone number. So they can ask their client 5 what was your telephone number during this time period.
6 They can search that telephone number and pull up all the 7 calls between that telephone number and the cooperating 8 witness.

9 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: So if there is a mention of a 10 certain defendant on a call but it's between two people who 11 are not him and they're just talking about his involvement
12 in something or as in detention hearing they are mentioning 13 that a certain person was at a meeting, et cetera, how would 14 that person's defense counsel figure out to listen to that 15 call?

16 MR. LEVITT: So in the first instance they would 17 see if it's in a report. As I said, I mean, with --

18 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: So they search their client's 19 name through the reports.

20 MR. LEVITT: Correct. So the discovery -- the 21 reports that are produced are searchable by name. So they 22 would search their client's street name, their MS-13 name.

23 And, you know, as I said, I mean, I think there 24 are, you know, most of the significant calls -- at least the 25 ones that were deemed significant by the government at the

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 time there is some sort of accompanying report.

2 MS. HEMANI: There's also we produced -- I don't 3 know how many, but there are some draft translations of some 4 of the calls and some of the meetings and some summary 5 translations which we've produced, and those also to the 6 extent we could identify the individual who participated in 7 it, those are searchable too. And we're continuing to 8 prepare and work on transcriptions of some of the key 9 meetings, and we will be producing those as we have them.

10 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So just on this topic, 11 yes, Ms. Griffen? Does anyone have a comment or yes? Yes.

12 MS. GRIFFIN: Yes, and I'm going to move to the -- 13 Joan Griffin.

14 I do just want to say I'm one of the people that 15 sent in one of those discovery letters prior to the most 16 recent one, and while some discovery has been produced I was 17 mainly asking for the government to pinpoint the discovery 18 that referenced or implicated my client.

19 I actually believe, for example, that on those 20 hours and hours of CW-1 calls he is not a participant at 21 all, and I would expect he's mentioned very little if at 22 all.

23 So rather than my trying to listen to all of this 24 in Spanish to figure that out, I have asked the government 25 to tell me if he's either participating in any of those

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 calls or is mentioned in any of those calls. So they have 2 not been able to do that yet. I understand that they're now 3 saying the calls are searchable by phone number and date, 4 but they're not searchable by name of defendant.

5 Now, the transcripts -- we have received a few 6 transcripts, and those do identify the participants, so 7 that's fine. You know, that would work.

8 But in general, if you have some of these 9 defendants such as mine who are involved in very -- 10 apparently very limited events and perhaps no calls with the 11 CW-1 who seems to have been a member of one of the 12 particular cliques here but -- and talks to those people but 13 doesn't talk to everyone else, obviously it would be helpful 14 and efficient if the government gave us a little package and 15 said this is what we've got against your client.

16 Which has been done in other cases; and in 17 particular, the NECC case that I represent a defendant in.
18 When they produced discovery to us, it was organized by 19 folder, and it had a folder called "Indictment Docs," and 20 for each defendant, you know, you had the documents as to 21 your particular involvement. And for someone who's a small 22 defendant in particular, it's very helpful to be able to 23 start with that and not just have, you know, hours and hours 24 and hours of tapes.

25 This discovery is not organized like that. The

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 only index we've received I think identifies the major 2 murders, but for example doesn't mention my client at all in 3 any of the indexed materials. So that's not a help to me.

4 So the short answer is I think, you know, we're 5 trying to work with the government, but some of us are 6 clamoring, and at this point I would expect that there will 7 be a motion filed on this issue if we can't get more 8 pinpointed discovery.

9 And I told the government flat out I'm 10 CJA-appointed counsel. I'm going to have to file a budget, 11 and the Court isn't going to want to see a budget for me to 12 just sit and listen to hours and hours of stuff when they 13 know that I'm not in 99 percent of it.

14 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

15 MR. LEVITT: Well, so, you know, we'd be happy to 16 provide Ms. Griffin with -- as we have with many of 17 defendants who've asked -- with a packet of materials 18 concerning her client.

19 You know, we can not say this is everything about 20 your client, because there are, you know, thousands of -- 21 well, there's hundreds of hours of consensual T. III 22 conversations.

23 I agree with Ms. Griffin. I think it's unlikely 24 that those are going to be involving her client, because the 25 CW was involved, in particular, with one clique, and her

1 client was in a different clique, and her client was in jail
2 for a good deal of the time. So she kind of has a short
3 window when her client is out. So we can certainly work
4 with her to provide, you know, some sort of individualized 5 discovery.

6 As I've said, her client is not implicated in one 7 of the murders that are currently charged or listed, so we 8 have -- we have focused primarily in terms of individualized 9 discovery on those to start, because those folks have been 10 asking since the beginning. But we're sort of done with 11 that largely, so we can certainly work with her to try to 12 help her on that.

13 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: I do think for some defendants 14 who are mentioned infrequently not -- just giving them the 15 global discovery is not really giving them the discovery.
16 They need to know what is the evidence against me without 17 their lawyer listening to 9,000 hours or whatever.

18 MR. LEVITT: It's true. There's a handful of 19 defendants like that. And, you know, one thing we're happy 20 to sit down with them in the first place and sort of walk
21 through the evidence that we have to date. You know, sort 22 of what we see as the case against them, and to help try to 23 pinpoint them to time periods. If they were at a particular 24 clique meeting, letting them know that sort of thing.

25 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

1 MR. LEVITT: As I said, I think we've focused 2 primarily on the murders to date, but I think we're sort of 3 past that point and can work towards some of the other 4 defendants.

5 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Mr. Cunha, did you have 6 something?

7 MR. CUNHA: I think Mr. Bourbeau wanted to go 8 first.

9 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Mr. Bourbeau?

10 MR. CUNHA: I cede to Mr. Bourbeau.

11 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Yes.

12 MR. BOURBEAU: Yes, good afternoon, Your Honor.

13 First of all, I represent Mr. Edwin Gonzalez who 14 has been charged with two homicides and an attempted murder.
15 And I very much appreciate the government's informal 16 communications, and I've had a number of them.

17 I am concerned with both the timing of the 18 discovery and the substance of the discovery. What I can 19 tell the Court is right now as to I only have -- and I'm 20 hopeful that tomorrow's production will be more fruitful
21 than what I've received so far. Only in the last production 22 did I receive anything involving one of the homicides, and 23 that production --

24 And I can tell you from experience in homicide 25 cases, is it's just a fraction of the materials that are in

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 any typical homicide file. There's very few crime scene 2 reports, which is typical Rule 16 materials. There's very 3 few actual substantive reports concerning the homicide
4 investigation. There are a few statements that, you know, 5 came up surrounding -- I'm speaking particularly as to the 6 Martinez homicide which was a State Police investigation.

7 But a State Police investigation, for example, has 8 a case jacket. It identifies hundreds of items and where 9 those items are. And I've mentioned that to the government 10 I don't have that case jacket, and I don't have what items
11 go along with it, which would be typical Rule 16 materials.
12 And that's just that one homicide.

13 Finally, as to the attempted murder, after a 14 number of calls I finally got I believe 12 pages on the 15 attempted murder, which again is simply an incident report, 16 which is a one-paragraph summary and a bunch of just not 17 identifying information.

18 That is not what is in a typical State file, and 19 these are State cases that are being tried by way of the 20 racketeering acts.

21 So, you know, I do ask the government, and I ask 22 the Court to help us implore the government to really turn 23 over as much of the files as they can.

24 And again, I can understand that this is a large 25 undertaking, but they chose to indict it in the way they

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 have, and they chose to proceed in the way they have. But 2 we're now four months out, and I'm still yet to receive on 3 the January 10 one single document other than some brief
4 summaries that were provided. And that --

5 You know, unfortunately, the government is already 6 filing motions and attaching documents that we don't have.
7 I just filed a request for an extension on that.

8 So again, I'm just --

9 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: I saw that, and I'll grant 10 that request.

11 MR. BOURBEAU: Yeah. Again, I'm just imploring 12 the government to turn over or at least make inquiries of 13 the State. You know, and I understand there's State 14 prosecutors and what part of the file they may have gotten 15 and may not have gotten at this time.

16 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

17 MR. BOURBEAU: But to turn that over, because it 18 really is -- this is not typical cases that you would see in 19 a State case.

20 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Thank you, sir.

21 MR. LEVITT: So I think Mr. Bourbeau is --

22 And I wish he'd asked me about this. I would have 23 told him.

24 -- is under a misapprehension as to how this case 25 developed.

1 We didn't adopt these two murders nor this 2 attempted murder from the State. These are federal 3 investigations. The crime scene at the day of the scene is 4 the State responding to it, and then it was quickly a 5 federal investigation. Okay? So he's not going to get what 6 he would normally expect to get from a State homicide 7 investigation. Okay?

8 The attempted murder that he's mentioning was not 9 charged in State court, so there is no State file to provide 10 him. Okay?

11 So we have provided information on both, you know, 12 the --

13 Back in March I provided Mr. Bourbeau with the 14 most important evidence of his client's involvement in the 15 murder of Christopher Delacruz: the tape recorded 16 statements of his client to the cooperating witness 17 admitting at length to the murder, describing in detail how 18 he murdered Christopher Delacruz, and including the pictures 19 from the car of his client while he's talking about the 20 murder. I also included the summaries of the other 21 individuals who were involved in the murder. That at the 22 end of the day will be the most important evidence with 23 respect to that murder.

24 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

25 MR. LEVITT: Mr. Bourbeau -- just to -- you know,

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 he had asked us about the photos -- crime scene photos and 2 that sort of thing, and we email him that -- this was two 3 weeks ago -- that this next discovery coming out tomorrow 4 will have the bulk of the media production for that 5 Christopher Delacruz murder which is all of the surveillance 6 tapes from the scene, the crime scene photos, that sort of 7 thing. Over a thousand media files.

8 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: What about the -- do you have 9 other kinds of typical homicide materials such as lab 10 results and that type of thing?

11 MR. LEVITT: So the lab results that we attached 12 to the buccal swab motion we got Friday.

13 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. But those are -- when 14 are those going to be shared?

15 MR. LEVITT: Those can go out -- we can get them 16 out next week. I mean, we literally got them Friday. We 17 were in the process of -- we were about to file a buccal 18 swab motion. Those came in, and so we just attached it to 19 the motion and filed it.

20 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

21 MR. LEVITT: But those sort of things. You know, 22 the autopsy reports. Those sort of things. Some of that 23 has already gone out. Others are going out tomorrow.

24 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Yes, Mr. Cunha?

25 MR. CUNHA: I'd just like to endorse what Joan

1 Griffen said about organization.

2 I'm also on the NECC case, and we in that case
3 don't think the organization sufficed, and it was far more 4 than what we have here and with respect to requesting 5 pinpoint discovery, which I have not done. I'm waiting to 6 see the discovery first to figure it out, and then I'll make 7 my request.

8 But this is a conspiracy indictment, so I am very 9 concerned about these 9,000, you know, recordings. The 10 government does not have to prove that my client committed 11 the predicate acts --

12 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Sure.

13 MR. CUNHA: -- that they said he did.

14 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: I know all about that.

15 MR. CUNHA: I assumed you would.

16 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: I know what you're talking 17 about.

18 So let me just say this. Rather than have every 19 defense counsel go through every shred of evidence in the 20 case, I'm going to ask Mr. Cunha and Ms. Griffin and whoever 21 else, but especially those two, to after you receive the 22 discovery tomorrow, to look at it, and then to sit down with 23 the government in person and talk about either how could 24 this be better organized. Or if the government is going 25 through things and translating things and organizing things,

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 perhaps they could do it in such a way that they can share
2 it with you as they do it and just how could it be organized 3 optimally. And if the government is not able to help you,
4 then we should get together, a critical group of defense 5 lawyers, to do that.

6 You can have someone perhaps go through it and 7 organize it at least in a preliminary fashion and save 8 yourselves all a lot of time and trouble.

9 So let's just try that. And we don't have to wait
10 until the next hearing. I'm happy to convene another 11 conference if you want a conference to talk about it, or you 12 have some motion to make or whatever.

13 Because it's in everyone's interest to get this -- 14 to communicate about this and get it organized in such a way
15 that people can do their work. Okay?

16 I mean, another whole can of worms is when Mr.
17 Cunha tells his client I want you to listen to this 18 particular call or watch this particular video, will his 19 client in the institution be able to figure out where it is, 20 and if he can pull it up and listen to it?

21 MR. CUNHA: Right. And that's a concern that we 22 have. Thank you. I had forgotten to mention that.

23 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Well, the government --

24 MR. CUNHA: There is an index. I'm not so clear 25 that my client has the wherewithal to use that index.

1 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Well, okay. Then that's 2 another thing to be looking at.

3 The government is going to be -- they have their 4 IT poised and ready to load up these computers with the 5 information so that people can access it in the institutions 6 --

7 And once again, if there was some -- if there was 8 some organization to the way in the discovery itself, it 9 would facilitate --

10 MR. CUNHA: And when you're talking about again 11 9,000 as a number, it's a lot more likely that my client can 12 get through that than I can. First of all, I don't speak 13 Spanish, but --

14 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Well, the government needs to 15 go through those things. You need to go through those 16 things. Everyone needs it to be organized in such a way 17 that they can search it and find things easily, et cetera.
18 And hopefully you can cooperate on that, so.

19 Okay. Moving right along. You know, this is 20 taking quite a while.

21 If you need a case budget, which I think is 22 $40,000 or more that you anticipate billing, you must work 23 one out with Mike Andrews.

24 And he's having a meeting on June 13. I don't 25 know the time. Does anyone know the time?

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 ATTORNEY: It has not been established yet as far 2 as I know. He's looking into --

3 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Peter Parker thinks 4 it's at two, but if --

5 ATTORNEY: Oh, excuse me. It's at three o'clock.
6 That's right. It is at three o'clock, yes.

7 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So he's out of town
8 today, so he couldn't be here. But if you can't make the 9 three o'clock case budgeting meeting, just schedule a 10 tutorial with him, and he'll be happy to help you. But 11 you've got to get a case budget going.

12 I'll let Mr. Bourbeau take the lead on this. How 13 much time would you like to respond to Document No. 500, the 14 buccal swab motion?

15 MR. BOURBEAU: Well, if all the information is 16 being provided tomorrow and I guess since they just received 17 this information, it will be provided following that.
18 Again, within 30 -- even 30 days if they're going to be 19 provided immediately, if it's going to be perhaps 45 days.

20 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Why don't I just say anyone 21 who wants to object to that should object by July 29.

22 Is that going to throw the government off if the 23 motion is pushed out that far? Is there some urgency to 24 that motion?

25 MR. LEVITT: No. I mean, all it means is --

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 The answer is no, but just in full disclosure what 2 it means is, you know, the lab is waiting. The Boston 3 Police lab is ready to make comparisons. There's a great 4 deal of forensic evidence in this case. More than they've 5 experienced is what they've expressed to us in terms of --

6 And so and they've already just -- you know,
7 without even having buccal swab and maker case prints,
8 they've already gotten hits on -- you know, in murder cases.
9 So it just means that it will take longer for the forensic 10 review.

11 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Why don't we say we'll set a 12 deadline of July 11. And if you need more time to object to 13 it, you can file a motion for extension of that deadline, 14 but let's --

15 Is that all right with you?

16 MR. BOURBEAU: That's fine.

17 Just so the Court's aware, we'll also from what I 18 see from the buccal swab motion, they have requested 19 destructive testing in their request. So we'll need to 20 acquire by that time, as well, DNA experts who will have to 21 go and observe. Which I believe the BPD labs allows the 22 observation. State Police does not. But we'll need to 23 acquire those experts to make the observation during the 24 initial testing and breaking down of material.

25 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Let's say by July 11

1 you can file a substantive objection to the motion, and then 2 also by that date if you have an expert -- whether you have 3 the expert or not, you can notify the Court I want an expert 4 to go, and then you can work that out with the government, 5 and the government --

6 I'm going to order the government now not to do 7 any testing until we know what is happening.

8 So I just draw everyone's attention to Local Rule 9 116.3(h) which says that in multi-defendant cases the 10 defense counsel are to try not to duplicate motions. And it 11 actually requires you all to confer, but I'm not going to 12 impose that requirement.

13 But I think, for example, if someone's having a 14 DNA expert go --

15 It also says -- it relieves you of the necessity 16 of joining in a motion. So you could just talk to Mr.
17 Bourbeau and perhaps not duplicate that unless you want to.
18 If you think there's a conflict is going to arise with the 19 expert or something, then you can do as you wish. But if 20 you can piggyback on someone's expert, that's perfectly 21 acceptable, and I'll let you work that out among yourselves.

22 So is there anything else at this time? Yes?

23 ATTORNEY: I'd ask, Your Honor, if the 24 government's willing to give us a list of all the particular 25 phone numbers that they attribute to particular defendants,

1 that would expedite the search. I don't think it harms the 2 government in any way. And we're also assuming that each 3 defendant recalls the phone number that he used at a 4 particular time.

5 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Or that he's even -- right, or 6 --

7 There are a lot of possibilities there.

8 But could you do that?

9 MR. LEVITT: Yeah, we could try to do that.

10 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay.

11 ATTORNEY: Thank you.

12 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So anything else? Yes, 13 sir.

14 MR. NORKUNAS: Judge, I think that there's been a 15 number of detention hearings held throughout here, and I 16 think we would like the transcripts potentially of those.
17 And rather than have the -- you know, all of us or many of 18 us file for a separate transcript of that, if those could be 19 ordered, then we could have available a transcript to 20 everybody.

21 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So Ms. --

22 MR. NORKUNAS: One task, and everybody gets a 23 copy.

24 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So Mr. Norkunas just 25 for the benefit of the people who are on the phone, Mr.

1 Norkunas is asking can we have transcripts of all the 2 various detention hearings and have them made available.
3 And I don't see why not rather than having everyone 4 requesting them.

5 ATTORNEY: And the status conference today, Your 6 Honor? Status conferences as well.

7 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So I do just have one 8 last matter to raise with the government; which is, do you 9 have a timetable for dividing up the defendants for trial 10 purposes?

11 MR. LEVITT: I don't have -- we don't have a 12 timetable. We have thought about it in response to the 13 question at the last status conference, sort of a framework 14 for it.

15 But even sort of as a precursor to that, we've had 16 a great deal of approaches from defendants about pleading, 17 and so there's a lot of those conversations occurring
18 already. And so, you know, once --

19 We'll have a better sense once more of that has 20 played through. We expect a good deal of that to happen in 21 the next couple months.

22 In terms of a frame --

23 So, you know, some of the framework will depend on 24 who's left at a certain point.

25 Certainly the drug defendants who are not -- who

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber

1 are alleged to be suppliers to MS-13 or associates of MS-13 2 is a separable group that could in theory be tried separate.

3 When it comes to the remaining MS-13 defendants,
4 there are ways to separate them. You know, it raises a 5 question of whether that would be efficient to do it.

6 But if, you know, at the end of the day there was 7 a certain number beyond which the Court would say, you know, 8 we need to separate these, certainly the separating by 9 murders can be done. You know, there are certain defendants 10 who are implicated in murders that are related either in 11 time or in context or clique that could be done together.
12 And, you know, in theory all the murders could be done 13 together and another group separately.

14 The reason I raise the efficiency question is 15 there would be a tremendous amount of duplication in terms
16 of testimony because obviously the RICO conspiracy element 17 will be a significant aspect of any trial. So there would 18 be a good deal of duplicative testimony.

19 But, you know, it could be done, and it really 20 will come down at the end of the day to the numbers I think.

21 JUDGE SAYLOR: If I may join in? I don't have any 22 firm ideas on this topic. I note that Judge Chesler in New 23 Jersey just concluded a eight-defendant MS-13 trial. Eight 24 defendants which took 16 weeks to try. And if I extrapolate 25 that even a little bit, it gives me quite a bit of pause in

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 terms of what these trials -- or this trial might look like.

2 And we can't sever without duplication, and we 3 can't try everyone together without huge inefficiencies, as 4 well. There's going to be no perfect solution here.

5 I want to make sure that you're thinking about it.
6 I think experience would suggest that the people most likely 7 to go to trial are the most major and the most minor 8 players, and it's possible that minor players might be spun 9 off in drug or gun charges or whatever that might be 10 handled, you know, efficiently or in advance of the more 11 significant cases. I don't know. It's an abstract idea.
12 Of course it's going to depend on who pleads and in what 13 cases and so forth.

14 But we also -- we need to have some structure at 15 some point going forward. We can't assume that everyone's 16 going to plead or most people are going to plead or any 17 particular defendant's going to plead.

18 And I lie awake at night looking at the ceiling 19 sometimes thinking about what 2017 and 2018 are going to 20 look like for me personally, and in you're in my dreams, Mr.
21 Levitt. So I just want you to make sure that you are 22 focused on that as well as counsel; you know, if your 23 client's going to go to trial, what that's going to look 24 like and in what time frame.

25 MR. LEVITT: Just to add to that, Judge, you know,

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 we are -- we're also in contact with the prosecutors in New 2 Jersey as well as the ones in Virginia that completed a
3 trial recently, an MS case and North Carolina. So, you 4 know, we're trying to learn from them in terms of what their 5 experiences were and where they think the inefficiencies 6 were and, you know, to try to see what we can do to make 7 this process as smooth as possible.

8 JUDGE SAYLOR: Otherwise, I don't have anything to 9 add except that it seems like Mr. Parker from where he's 10 sitting ought to be put under oath and be cross examined by 11 someone.

12 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: So, I did also just want to 13 bring to everyone's attention that Judge Saylor did order 14 interim billing for all CJA counsel, and I think today was 15 one date by which you can bill.

16 And you don't need to file any motions for 17 interpreters. There's a standing order of the First Circuit 18 that says if your client requires an interpreter in court, 19 you can expend reasonable funds for interpreters to see the 20 client so that it's not necessary to get advance permission 21 for interpreter's funds.

22 And I would like to have the next --

23 JUDGE SAYLOR: Just on that, if you have any 24 questions about any of that, your first contact ought to be 25 Mike Andrews, okay, who's very involved in this and can help

1 guide you through that.

2 I mean, I'm getting these vouchers. You know,
3 they're coming fast and furious -- and that's fine --
4 including a lot of interpreters which are, you know, easy 5 vouchers to approach.

6 But as you're figuring out how to go forward as 7 well as I'm, you know, beginning to struggle through this, 8 Mike Andrews is a resource of the Court that can help with 9 all of that.

10 MR. HALPERN: Can I ask a question? Steven 11 Halpern.

12 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Yes.

13 MR. HALPERN: I raised this at the last hearing.
14 Is there any sort of plan being considered to deal with 15 interpreters and --

16 I mean, I have to say I listened to this, and 17 there's almost like Alice in Wonderland aspect to it talking 18 about the burden of going through thousands of hours of 19 discovery. It's not really much of a burden for me, because 20 I can't understand any of it. You know, to talk about it as 21 though the production of stuff in a language that virtually 22 none of us can understand unindexed, so this notion that if 23 we just spend the time to review, we'll find the stuff that 24 relates to our clients, I mean just is absurd.

25 And the phone call -- you know, tracking this by

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 phone numbers? I mean, you know, these guys change phone 2 numbers every other week. The notion that they're going to 3 remember -- I just don't --

4 But my main issue was whether there's any thought 5 to what the plan is to get things translated, to get 6 discovery translated.

7 MR. CUNHA: In both languages.

8 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: In both languages Mr. Cunha 9 just said.

10 Well, Mr. Halpern, I'm going to task you with 11 having a sit-down with the government to talk about this, 12 and I think previously Michael Tumposky also was going to 13 spearhead an effort to prevent counsel from duplicating 14 their efforts to have things translated.

15 So I assume the government will be translating 16 since we have English-speaking juries here a lot of these 17 phone calls. And I think the point you raise is an 18 excellent one, and we should have addressed it.

19 And so if you don't mind, you can work on that.
20 I'm not trying to punish you for bringing that up, but I
21 just think we need a solution. So --

22 MR. TUMPOSKY: Your Honor --

23 Michael Tumposky here.

24 So, yeah, we had --

25 And I can talk to Mr. Halpern I think it was off

1 line.

2 But, you know, I have a paralegal who has been 3 appointed for this purpose, and so there is a mechanism.
4 It's not totally finalized, but basically it's on request 5 through her to have things sent to translate it and then 6 distributed to counsel.

7 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Well, --

8 MR. TUMPOSKY: I think one aspect of it anyway.

9 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Yeah, I think that's one 10 aspect of it.

11 But if the government is going to be going through 12 materials and translating them anyway, if -- perhaps they 13 could cooperate with defense counsel in letting them know 14 what their deadlines are for completing those things, and 15 maybe then defense counsel don't have to do it all 16 themselves. And if defense counsel do do it, then perhaps 17 through Mr. Tumposky's efforts they can share that.

18 So maybe what I'll ask you, Mr. Halpern, is just 19 to talk to Mr. Tumposky and see how this is going along.

20 And Mr. Tumposky, if you don't mind staying in 21 communication with the rest of the defense lawyers so that 22 people who don't speak Spanish know what's happening in this 23 regard.

24 MR. TUMPOSKY: Sure.

25 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So here's what I

1 propose that we do is have the next status conference on 2 September 8 which is 90 days away, and I just want to ask
3 first if there's anyone who objects to my excluding the time
4 between today and September 8 on behalf of their client, 5 would you speak up.

6 MS. PARSONS: I do, Your Honor.

7 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Oh, okay.

8 MS. PARSONS: On behalf of Mr. Andrade.

9 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. So I'm going to find --
10 Thank you very much. 18 USC 3161(h)(7)(A)(B)(ii)
11 And I'm going to find that under 18 USC 3161(h)(7)
12 (A) and (H), (B)(ii), that this is a complex case and that 13 the time is necessary for the parties to get their cases in 14 order.

15 However, if, Ms. Parsons, you want to object after 16 September 8, I'll consider the status of discovery, et 17 cetera, and we can send you up.

18 MS. PARSONS: Okay.

19 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: And obviously anytime you want 20 to ask for a speedy trial, you can do so.

21 MS. PARSONS: Thank you, Your Honor.

22 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: But as of now, we'll exclude 23 the time for everyone until September 8, and in the meantime 24 --

25 THE CLERK: Excuse me, Judge. What time on

Judy Bond
Certified Federal Court Transcriber
508.984.7003

1 September 8?

2 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Three o'clock. I'm sorry.

3 Thank you.

4 In the meantime, we'll have the discovery dates 5 that we set before: June 30 for the discovery letter, and 6 July 29 to wrap up automatic discovery, and then by July 11 7 we'll have objections to the buccal swab motion and any 8 notifications of defendant's experts needing to be present 9 at destructive testing.

10 And if we require a hearing after that date, I'll 11 set a date, and it will appear on ECF, and whoever wants to 12 can attend. It obviously won't be mandatory that you 13 attend.

14 Okay. Anything else from anyone?

15 Yes, Mr. Norkunas.

16 MR. NORKUNAS: (Inaudible) to ask Judge Saylor.
17 Those of us who may have not put in the original bill for 18 June 1, does the Court agree to give us any leeway for that 19 first bill? I know it's been ordered by June 1.

20 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: For interim billing?

21 MR. NORKUNAS: Yes.

22 JUDGE SAYLOR: Off the record.

23 (Off the record discussion.)

24 MAG. JUDGE KELLEY: Okay. Thank you all very 25 much.
